

ABSTRACT

5

A network based construction project management system. The system includes network accessible databases of project information including drawings and specifications. The system allows for varying amount of access for various user including general contractors, subcontractors, architects and project owners. The system 10 allows for the effective creation, management and long term accessible storage of project submittals.